

ECORSE ROAD

BRIEF HISTORY

This neighborhood is located within Ypsilanti Township, bordering the City of Ypsilanti to the east. Interstate 94 and the former Willow Run Bomber Plant, soon to be the American Center for Mobility, a new autonomous vehicle testing facility, is located to the southeast, and Michigan Avenue borders on the north. The housing stock is mostly smaller single-family homes, constructed between 1930 and 1950, initially as the City expanded but accelerated during World War II, when housing for thousands of workers coming to the Willow Run Bomber plant was needed.
