It was confirmed at the meeting that no machinery would be allowed on top of the water reservoir. It was also mentioned that the project includes removal of all the interior contents, and the old antennas stacked outside on the north side of the building. The demo is to include the removal of the old ice bridge running from the northeast outside corner of the hut up to the radio tower. The old gas line on the east side of the hut is to be cut off about 2" below ground and buried. It was asked that the materials marked with a mutually agreed upon marking would be carried off the site, and left on the ground next to the dumpster for later removal by Ann Arbor radio shop personnel.
